Where Will 2 Percent Be Cut Off Budget?

JUNIOR HIGH HAD FIRST BOMB THREAT

The Junior High School was supposed to be blown up Wednesday morning, and students were evacuated for half an hour while police and firefighters checked the building.

Sgt. James Lynch described the telephone warning of a bomb, received at police headquarters at 8:12, as coming from a youthful voice.

School Supt. Edward I. Erickson said the department had anticipated receiving such calls, based on the experience in surrounding towns. He said make-up sessions - possibly on Saturday mornings - will be considered if such events persist. He also noted that state law now has established a stiff penalty for anyone telephoning a bomb threat.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and heads of departments are studying budgets this week, to see where two percent can be cut.

Town meeting voted to slice a flat two percent off the total budget, except schools, but left it up to Mr. Duff to decide which items will be trimmed.

The cut comes to approximately $42,000.

Because the larger part of most budgets is listed as salaries, there was some speculation during the week that increases could be affected by the vote, as well as the expenses of the various departments.

Town meeting, by voting the reduction, appropriated a net budget, except for schools, of $2,112,702. The School Department budget totals $1,821,935.

Taxpayers Association member Joseph F. Adams moved the reduction, telling the voters that, in view of the threatened $4 tax rate increase, the meeting should decide if it wants economies in town government.

Taxpayers Member Henry F. Wolfson compared the recommended appropriations with actual expenditures in 1962, and came up with an increase of "close to 11 percent".

Also speaking for the reduction was Donald Richmond, who noted

Tax Rate Has Not Been Set

The tax rate has not been set for 1963, but this may be done within a few days.

Assessor William Russell anticipates receiving the state's "cherry sheet", listing income to the town and expected costs of various county and state projects, almost any day.

With this data available, the assessors can determine the rate. There was considerable expectation at town meeting last Saturday that a $4 rate increase - to $30 - will take place. But after the meeting, it was believed that a

Giles Has Options On 6 Sites In Business Area

Six business locations - either inside of or on the perimeter of the Urban Renewal area - are under option by contractor C. Lincoln Giles.

He told the Townsman this week that three of the business sites are within the area that would have been covered by the renewal plan, three others are adjacent.

Mr. Giles said he can not disclose his specific plans for the areas until more definite action has been taken on acquisition of the property.

He explained, however, that parking plays a part in his plans, along with commercial and retail store space. Mr. Giles indicated that adequate off-street parking will be created for any buildings he may renovate or re-construct.

Mr. Giles, who opposed Urban Renewal at town meeting, expressed confidence that the business area can be up-graded through private investment.

He suggested, however, that the Andover Center Development Corporation, formed to handle Urban Renewal re-development, should remain in existence. He believes that such a business corporation could take an active part in the development of the business section, using private funds. He also suggested that all banks in the area agree to cooperate in the venture.

At the same time, he indicated that the properties he has under option are entirely his own business venture, and that no other group or individuals are connected with their acquisition.

At town meeting last Saturday, Mr. Giles also suggested that the town investigate leasing buildings constructed for municipal lease,

Circus Atmosphere For Graduation

A unique "graduation" was held last Friday night at Andover Junior High, under the sponsorship of the Raytheon Square Dancing Class, directed by Don Scott of Chestnut st.

Details and the pinning ceremony were handled by the Rocketeers Square Dancing Club.

Unlike the usual sedate ceremonies generally commemorating such occasions, this commencement was held amid a circus atmosphere including barbers, ringmasters, "wild animals", clowns, peep shows - even a professional acrobatic rope climber.

Disregarding conventional square dancing methods, dancers found themselves blindfolded, faces were decorated, some folks "danced on eggs" and others switched places with the opposite sex.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pratt of Chelmsford, the caller and his wife, were presented with a gift and the finale was a grand march at which time the "graduates" received tinsel bedecked graduation caps and diplomas conferring the degree of Bachelor of Square Dancing.

Over 50 couples received their "degrees". Those from Andover included Mr. and Mrs. James Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Caswell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Flonte, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Freije, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lester T. Newill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perrault, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shepherd and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hill.

Elected Members Of Student Gov't.

Students at The Pike School have recently completed their elections for officers of the undergraduate's student government. Officers are elected to serve for a half-year term each:

The officers for the first semester were president, John McArdle; vice president, Jonathan Stulgis; secretary, Jean Haley; treasurer, Mark Haley. Officers for the remainder of the year are respectively Bill Meyers, Cinda Kittredge, Nancy Bradford and Merrell Wreden.

The titles carry with them many and varied duties. The officers are responsible for the appointment and administration of committee work such as the maintenance of the school's grounds, the preparation of the multi-purpose room for various functions, cafeteria help with set-up and disposal problems, traffic and parking directions; and in general the officers help the school administration by bringing to the weekly meetings suggestions for improving student and faculty relations, and they serve as executive advisors to each of the committees.

In addition to the officers, the school government consists of a representative body composed of 14 members. Two boys and two girls representing each homeroom from grades five through eight. Mr. Richard Hornidge and Mrs. Charles Burton serve as faculty advisors to the school government. Their purpose is to teach boys and girls the meaning of service in a democratic form of government. Each boy and girl in the three upper grades will have performed tasks vital to the smooth operation of the school by the end of each year, and the tasks are performed as a consequence of choices made and duties imposed by the students own representative body.

But the meeting deducted $42,000 from budgets via a two percent decrease; voted $75,000 to offset the appropriations instead of $50,000; but also added $28,970 in recommended budget increases to pay for six new firefighters and additional snow-ice removal.

However, the net result was a reduction in appropriations.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff has commented on several occasions that he will be surprised if the increase is over $3.

that salary increases have been granted every year for a number of years.

Town Manager Duff defended the budgets, stating that a lot of money had already been cut from the requests, by himself, the Selectmen and the Finance Committee. Further, he noted that the Taxpayers Association had an opportunity to review the budgets, item by item.

Selectman Philip K. Allen also told the meeting that care had been taken, in the study of budgets, to keep them at a reasonable level.

Mr. Adams commented that the Association only has the Finance Committee figures to go on, and that the growth in the town does not seem to warrant budgetary increases of close to 11 percent.

During the discussion, the Finance Committee did not assert its position either way.

The Lenten project began March 3 and will end April 14, the money coming from a little extra contribution each week.

Issue, Not People, Was At Stake

"Coercion" - the term used by Selectman James D. Wilson in explaining his opposition to Urban Renewal - was further defined at town meeting last Saturday.

Mr. Wilson said he objected to the coercion implied by indicating that the characters of participants in the program should be considered. He suggested that Urban Renewal was the matter at issue, not the characters of any individuals involved. And that to vote on the persons, instead of the plan, was not to his liking.

WITH YOUR CHILD'S RELIGIOUS EDUCATION?

Instead of church school dogma that instills fear of sin and guilt, Unitarian-Universalist teaching concentrates on encouraging wholesome, psychologically sound values that make sense to both parent and child.

This program helps children develop moral and religious attitudes out of their own understanding and experiences at home, at school, among their friends.

They learn the origins and values of today's world religions... to understand others' religious ideas... to have faith in themselves and those around them... to grow up tolerantly in search of truths that make life a rich and full adventure.

Isn't this what you want for your child? Then investigate the Unitarian-Universalist religious education program.

Special Programs For Anniversary

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall opens its 1963 season March 25 at 8:30 p.m., presenting E. Power Biggs at the well-known instrument.

Mr. Biggs is probably the most widely known concert organist among the general public attracted by serious music, as well as professional organists. With headquarters in Cambridge, his Baroque organ at the Busch-Reisinger Museum at Harvard is well known. His many years of Sunday morning radio broadcasts and more recent recordings of many famous pipe organs in all parts of Europe have made his name a by-word everywhere. Although his name has often been associated with the 18th century music and instruments, he is equally at home with the modern.

Celebrating the hundredth anniversary of the organ's original installation and inauguration Nov. 2, 1863 at the Boston Music Hall, the Methuen Music Hall trustees have planned the greatest season in the history of Memorial Music Hall organization, as formed in 1946.

First, a series of 14 organ concerts will be sponsored during this season, which extends from March to November, at which, according to the usual custom, all of nearly 300 sustaining members are admitted free.

In addition there are numerous other concerts and recitals sponsored by other groups or individuals to which the public is invited.

For example, the New England Conservatory of Music Organ Department in Boston has already booked the Hall for a series of spring graduating student recitals.

Second, a special Centennial Anniversary Banquet and Entertainment is being planned for next fall, to be held at the Hall. This will be a great festive occasion for the Trustees and invited friends and will be reminiscent of the type of banquet that musical people enjoyed 100 years ago when the organ was first played.

Unusual and appropriate musical entertainment can be expected.

Third, a substantial grounds and building improvement plan will be carried out during the year to further balance the esthetic appeal to ear and eye alike.

Pike Skiers In Triumph

Pike School youngsters swept the Elementary School Invitation Ski Meet, held at the Dublin School, Dublin, N. H., March 2, and thereby continued their winning string which dates back to the beginning four years ago of this now traditional annual event.

This year's flu epidemic cut down the number of teams participating but the competition among the 40 boys and girls who were able to be present was keen. Other schools participating included Shore Country Day, Beverly; Bancroft School, Worcester; and Brookwood School, Manchester.

The slaloms are normally held in the morning followed by luncheon at the school, then the cross country race in the afternoon. The first four places in the giant slalom were won by the local school: first, Biff Stulgis, Andover; second place, Peter Sullivan, North Andover; third place, Charles Kintredge, Boxford; and fourth place, Peter McKee, Andover. The regular slalom was won by Stulgis, followed by McKee and McDonald of the Brookwood School. Peter Sullivan placed fourth in this event.

In the cross country, Peter McKee of Andover placed first, Barney Bro of Andover placed second, and Biff Stulgis placed third. All skiers who placed were underclassmen at The Pike School and will return next year in an effort to repeat.

Final standings were as follows: Pike School, 297.9; Shore Country Day, 258.4; Bancroft School, 211.4; and Brookwood School, 218.0.

American Home
Day Observed

Sisters Lillian Phelps and Bertha Lindsay of the Shaker Village of Canterbury, N. H., accompanied guest speaker Charles Thompson March 4, when he presented the morning program at the annual American Home Day of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club.

In his talk, Mr. Thompson traced the history of the Shakers from the arrival in this country of Anne Lee with eight followers in 1774, through the period of their greatest success, when their number totaled 600,000, to the time of their present enrollment of 26 survivors. He stressed the progressiveness of these independent people, who were supported by their own industries and contributed so much to American heritage.

The beautiful slides which Mr. Thompson used to illustrate his lecture demonstrated again and again the wonderful accomplishments that the concentrated ingenuity of the remarkable Shaker men and women were able to produce.

Antique treasures were displayed by the following members of the American Heritage Department: Mrs. Joseph Byrne, Mrs. Palmer Southworth, Mrs. Arthur Steinert, Mrs. Harrison Brown, Mrs. Manfred Jones, Mrs. C. J. Custer, Mrs. John Hewitt, Mrs. John Batal and Mrs. Gordon Thompson.

Also on exhibit was a colorful display of braided rugs made by the following members of the rug braiding group: Mrs. Richard Locke, Instructor, Mrs. A. Morris Campbell, Mrs. Manfred Jones, Mrs. Irving Piper, Mrs. Frederick McKay, Mrs. Benjamin Kula and Mrs. Joseph Byrne.

The Literature and Current Events report was given by Mrs. John Word, Mrs. John Gearin, chairman of the dance committee, reported, Mrs. George Gliss, co-chairman of the recent scholarship benefit bridge, reported on the success of that venture.

Mrs. Charles Hughes and Mrs. Nicholas Mulick of the Drama Department announced details for forthcoming play "Luxury Cruise", to be presented March 29 and 30 at the Junior High School Auditorium. The following cast is rehearsing under the direction of Mrs. William Edwards: Margaret Lowe, Thelma Carmichael, Ruth Lauder, Dorothy Popiel, Claire Winters, Alice Neil, Alan Chadwick, Robert Moore and Joseph Ottaviano.

All club members are requested to total the number of volunteer hours they have given during the past year and turn over the figures to the following department chairmen: Veteran's Service, Mrs. Richard Locke; Hospital Service, Mrs. Edward Erickson; and Community Service, Mrs. Thomas Neil. Closing date for proper credit to be received is March 24.

Mrs. John Appleyard, 10th District director, was a guest of the Club. In her remarks, Mrs. Appleyard stressed the benefits of the monthly Club Institute meetings held in Boston. She also spoke of the challenge of the various state and General Federation projects.

The afternoon program opened with a selection of lovely musical arrangements by the talented members of the A Capella Choir

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

False Emergencies?

A Finance Committee suggestion at town meeting, that it would transfer funds to a study committee from its reserve fund, brings into focus a custom that has been growing in recent years.

That the effort last Saturday failed is relatively unimportant, compared to the number of times this method of financing has been used.

On a number of occasions, the Finance Committee cuts substantial amounts out of department budgets, with the accompanying advice that department heads can get a transfer during the year, if needed.

This is one way to cut the budgets.

But it violates the spirit, if not the letter, of the by-law defining the FinCom and its powers. For that by-law specifies that the Finance Committee can make transfers in cases of emergency.

Cutting budgets to the point where an emergency appears quite possible — then justifying the transfer on the grounds that an emergency exists — doesn't make sense.

The effort last Saturday indicates the extent to which the FinCom has fallen into this practice. There was no emergency — the annual meeting customarily makes appropriations and the announcement was made during this session. In effect, it was an announcement that an emergency was about to be artificially created, thereby justifying the transfer of funds.

This particular practice does not make sense, and should be stopped before the FinCom becomes the town's virtual appropriating authority, instead of an advisory committee on finances.

Require Maximum Installation

One solution to the sewage problems, shared by most of the town, was proposed at town meeting.

It deserves serious study.

The proposal was made that all septic systems installed in the town must be completely adequate, or no building permit will be issued.

The Board of Health even now requires percolation tests from professional engineers before approving or turning down septic tank installations.

But perhaps higher standards could be established — standards which would do more to guarantee that the tank and leeching fields will actually do a complete job.

One of the arguments involved in this consideration is that the number of houses constructed here would be sharply limited in some areas.

Yet we submit the obvious conclusion that completely adequate septic systems, on every lot, would repudiate the need for sewer extensions. Many areas of town might never be built up, as a result of this action, but the taxpayers and the residents who possess adequate systems would not be financially penalized either.

Maps Urgently Need Review

We understand that several areas in town are now zoning problems, due to the condition of the maps and the controversy surrounding their interpretation.

It was suggested last week that an immediate study of the zoning maps — starting back at the original zoning — be undertaken. It seems to us that this is now more urgent than ever.

Businessmen invest in property zoned commercially — they should not be subject to loss because the zoning maps are somehow misleading, or in error.

We are not in a position to make any rulings on the validity of the maps — we merely point out that competent authorities should get on the ball to straighten out this mess before any further damage is done — to residents or to investors.

What Our Readers Say—

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"I would like to offer my private theory to explain why the huge sewer appropriation failed to win the town's approval last Saturday. Sewers are buried, invisible nonthings with an unfragrant connotation. Without the benefit of an advance build-up to create a favorable mental image, this town will spend $88,000 but not $880,000 on its sewers.

"We like to buy big toy-like things to which we can point with civic pride: a new school, a bright-red fire engine with bell and wailing siren, a Big Mike as it makes its terrifying rounds on a wild winter's night. But who can wax eloquent to a visitor over the beauty or excitement of a new sewer main?

"The problem, clearly, is to create an acute public appreciation of the hidden maze of underground pipes we call our sewer system.

"If only our citizens understood that into this dark and mysterious subterranean realm our civic offal flows — from little inch to big inch, by gravity or by pump, from branch to main, from main to trunk, from the abode of Judy O'Grady and the residence of the Colonel's lady, mingling into a smooth melange of social togetherness as it moves out beyond the point of no return into both our streams, then slowly winds its way down to the waiting sea — if only our voters learned to develop a warm and friendly feeling toward the underground domain over which the formidable Mr. Bassett reigns supreme — don't you think, Mr. Editor, that we would be more prone to bury our private treasure in order to accelerate our community's cleaning flood?"

Dino G. Valz

To the Editor of the Townsman:

"As a former resident of Andover (born in Ballardvale and lived in Andover for 21 years) I am sadly disappointed to hear of the professional building being built on Florence st. and that this may lead to future businesses there.

"From observing Andover when on that way, I think Andover, as a business community, is dead — but Andover is not alone as we have the same thing here in our town. So why waste money and put people out of their homes just for the sake of the almighty dollar? I know for a fact that several families on Florence st. are either ready to retire or have already retired. What are they to do? They will never be able to buy a home that will stand the wear and tear that their present homes do. I am certain that Mr. Wilson and Mr. Collins (a classmate of mine in Pynchard High School, incidentally) will not find homes for these displaced people either."

(Editor's note: The property in question was purchased; to our knowledge, no one can be displaced because individuals do not have eminent domain rights. They can only purchase property.)

Desert Island Reading

The next time you visit the library, you may want to share a little project now under way. There will be slips available for those who can decide just which books they would like to find on a desert island, if they found themselves washed up on the shore some time. There is one factor to be considered: some previous survivor there had left, in good condition and in very readable print, a copy of these books: The Bible, The Complete Works of Shakespeare and Pilgrim's Progress.

So why not begin to give some thought to the three books you are to be allowed to carry ashore with you. Remember, it may be for an indefinite period of time, and you are assured of enough food and warmth. Let's see what you will jot down, anonymously of course.

SELF-DEFENSE IN PRACTICE - A course for women, at the Andover Youth Center, teaches self-defense under many conditions. Demonstrating some of the methods used in defending yourself against an attack are Joyce Meuse, Edna Powell, Claire McClorey and Mrs. George Borillo, wife of the instructor.

Self-Defense Being Taught

Would-be molesters had better take note of the fact that many women in Andover are taking a course in self-defense and will know pretty well how to protect themselves in any emergency.

According to Donald D. Dunn, the tactics being taught to these "defenseless" women are known to be crippling, maiming and possibly fatal.

Mr. Dunn, who is director at the Andover Youth Center where the course is being held on Monday nights at 7:30 p.m., said he first decided to initiate the course after members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority expressed a need in these tense times, not only for themselves but for others as well.

There is a class enrollment of about 45 and more keep coming, ranging in age from high school juniors to grandmothers. There is a good possibility of repeating the course at a later date, depending upon demand and also availability of instructors.

An Andover resident, George Borillo, one of the founders and an instructor at Somerville High School, is teaching the class. He also has instructed Andover and Lawrence police, teaches at the YMCA and has held many demonstrations in this area.

Besides Mr. Borillo, Sgt. Robert Raymond of the Andover Police Department is on hand to give other aspects of personal safety at home and elsewhere. He has many interesting thoughts on what to do in case of prowlers, peeping toms, molesting and other similar unpleasant encounters.

All women of Andover are welcome to participate in this Self-Defense Course, the only requirement being membership in the Andover Youth Center.

Sewer Article Was Withdrawn
A massive, accelerated sewer program was finally withdrawn at a meeting Saturday, after the selectmen decided that amendments had removed the heart of the article.

Sidney P. White was successful in his bid to have the following streets deleted from the article - Rennie dr., Strawberry Hill rd., Argilla rd., Dascomb rd. and Andover st.

Water-Sewer Supt. Donald Bassett, Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and other town officials huddled briefly after Mr. White's amendment was adopted, then selectman Philip K. Allen announced withdrawal of the article. It had asked for $880,000 - $25,000 from available funds this year, and the rest on bond issue when matching funds were available from the government. The article had the approval of the Finance Committee.

The objections came mainly over the need for the accelerated program and the cost of betterment assessments. It was explained that the installations are all contained in the master plan for sewerage, and that the opportunity to obtain funds from the accelerated public works program of the federal government brought about the article.

Additionally, the normal betterment assessment of $9.10 per foot of frontage would be reduced to $4.65 per foot, because of the federal participation, Mr. Duff explained.

Some speakers assailed the official position that the work should be done because federal funds may be available, whether it is needed now or not.

Board of Health Chairman Robert Walsh defended the plan, noting that septic tank systems are not desirable, and that trouble usually results at some time after their installation.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Miss Joyce Miriam Nassar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Nassar, 60 Hidden rd., has been named to the preliminary dean's list at Western College for Women.

She was one of 72 students honored this week for outstanding academic achievements during the first semester. Miss Nassar is a sophomore at Western.

Enrollment Closed For School Year

The enrollment for the West Parish Nursery School has been completed for the school year beginning in September, according to Mrs. Benjamin Baldwin, chairman.

She explains that all applications received now will be placed on file for another year, or until vacancies occur.

The Nursery is operated at the West Parish Church and is both non-denominational and non-profit. Both a director and an assistant director are retained by the Nursery.

On Water Extension

In a surprise switch of behavior Saturday, the voters approved one request for a water installation that had not been presented by town officials.

Martin T. Caughey Jr. asked for and received an appropriation of $16,000 for 1,100 feet of water main in Cross st. The article did not have the Finance Committee's approval, nor had it been previously approved by the town water department. Over the past few years, the voters have seldom approved such requests.

Mr. Caughey told the voters that he wants the water installed now, instead of later, because he doesn't want to go to the expense required for a well, only to have the town install water and charge a betterment assessment against his land at a later date. He noted that the main is recommended in the master plan for water installations.

By a vote of 255-208, the appropriation was approved. FinCom Chairman Phillips B. Marsden told the voters that the sum would add to the tax rate, as it had not been approved by that agency.

Instead Mrs. Lucas received many lovely gifts.

In charge was Mrs. Ian Sanderson, social chairman. The hostess was Mrs. Richard Pagonis of Linda rd., assisted by Mrs. Luis Salazar. Others present included Mrs. Leter T. Newill, president; Mrs. David G. Roberts Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Louis Petersen, secretary.

Also attending were Mrs. George Farrell, Mrs. Joseph Adams, Mrs. Frank Gaw, Mrs. William B. Kent Jr., Mrs. Daniel Thoren, Mrs. Frank H. Robinson and Mrs. David MacDonald Jr.

Action Taken On Articles

With few exceptions, town meeting last Saturday approved special articles and budget items as recommended by the Finance Committee.

Looking through the warrant, the following special articles were approved:

Voted $34,224.90 from available funds, for road improvements under Chapter 782 - money to be reimbursed by the state; Gleason st. accepted as a public way; approved $33,000 for drainage work on Gleason st. and High Plain rd., Porter rd. and Andover st. Appropriated $54,000 from available funds for Chapter 90 construction; raised $2,000 to establish boundaries and lay out public ways that are unaccepted streets; $7,500 from available funds for Lovejoy rd. sidewalk.

Available funds provided $85,000 for two major water system improvements, in the annual action to up-grade the system; $3,000 was also approved to acquire land at the mouth of Fish Brook for a pumping station.

Despite Town Manager Thomas E. Duff's plea, voters turned down a request for money to prepare preliminary plans for a new public works building on Lewis st. The FinCom and Taxpayers Association recommended against the article.

Voters agreed to create a stabilization fund of $50,000.

All of the Urban Renewal and associated zoning articles were either defeated or withdrawn, as was the article dealing with construction of municipal buildings.

The new position of gas piping and appliance inspector was created, under state requirements, with a $500 appropriation; approved creation of an advisory committee on home rule; agreed to provide $19,000 for the Land Acquisition Committee; and approved the by-law restricting truck parking in residential areas.

The committee studying the municipal by-laws was continued for another year; a master plan for storm drainage was approved, thus making it an official town requirement; and $16,000 was appropriated for the water main extension on Cross st.

A sewer extension on Shipman rd. was defeated; $1,000 requested by the Board of Trade for help in the Christmas lighting program was defeated; $75,000 was voted to help reduce the tax rate.

An additional $28,875.68 was added to the $50,310 recommended for return to the treasury from unexpended appropriations. The sum came from two off-street parking articles dating back to 1957, and was added on motion of Donald Richmond. This total amount goes into free cash that will be available next year.

At the meeting's end, a motion to create a committee to study the present town charter, to have public hearings, and to act on recommendations next year, was defeated on a standing vote.

Withdrawn was a motion to set up a study committee to prepare preliminary plans for a police station, find a site for it, and to look into renovations in the town hall.

A total of 1,227 voters were checked off as having been present during the day.

FILE SUIT OVER FLORENCE ST. RULING

Arthur Collins and Robert E. Wilson have filed suit against the town, seeking relief from the Appeals Board decision on their Florence st. property.

Mr. Collins said action was taken Tuesday in Superior Court. Named in the suit are the Appeals Board and Planning Board, and their members individually, and Building Inspector Arthur Peatman.

In effect, the court action seeks to reverse the decision of the Board of Appeals, which stated that the Florence st. lot is residential instead of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kennis returned Wednesday to their home on High Plain rd. after spending the past several months with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kayworth of Bradenton, Fla.

Study Committee Motion Failed

An effort to appoint a committee to study the construction of a police station, and to find a site, dissolved in failure Saturday at the end of the town meeting.

Selectman B. Allen Rowland tried to get the committee appointed, and mentioned that its duties should also include a study of renovations to the town hall.

But when it came to appropriating money for preliminary plans, mentioned in the motion, no one could decide how these might be raised.

The Finance Committee announced its willingness to transfer $2,000 from reserve funds to the committee. But this met with the objection that the FinCom has authority to transfer for emergencies only - and that this was not an emergency, as it came up at the annual meeting itself.

A suggestion that the town hall article be reconsidered, for the purpose of amendment to get the committee appointed, failed because the article had been withdrawn from consideration. Thus it could not be reconsidered.

After several consultations among officials, the motion was withdrawn.
